Our Museum's Little Island, Big Ideas free lecture series continues.

September 27th: Moulin Studios: Images of the Fair

As the official photographer of the 1939–40 Golden Gate International Exposition, Gabriel Moulin had access to the Treasure Island fair site that allowed him to work in an unfettered manner. This lecture presents iconic images from Moulin's 100,000+ piece archive, which also includes photos of historically, politically, and culturally significant events in the United States and abroad. Presented by Jean E. Moulin.

October 25th: Marco Cochrane: The Man Behind Bliss Dance

The tradition of Treasure Island as a crucible of creative art dates from the 1939–40 fair and thrives again today in many artists' and designers' studios. Meet and hear from Marco Cochrane, creator of the island's iconic Bliss Dance and frequent contributing sculptor to Burning Man.

November 15th: From Garden to Table on Treasure Island

The island's redevelopment plans include restaurants and an urban farm, but they're both here already. Corey Block, manager of the Michelle Obama Treasure Island Job Corps Green Acre will discuss the creation of this urban garden in 2009 and the role it plays in the Culinary Arts program of the Job Corps Center.

“Little Island, Big Ideas” is sponsored by the Treasure Island Development Authority and The Winery-SF.
